Do you feel compelled to respond to the environmental crisis?
Believe religious and spiritual communities are indispensable to a sustainable future?
Want to develop skills and build a community that will help you make an impact?

Apply to become a GreenFaith Fellow and join more than 200 religious-environmental leaders representing diverse religions from around the world.

In September 2019, a new group of Fellows will join the Fellowship community to
• Develop relational organizing skills through on-line and in-person training at two retreats
  • Find their religious-environmental voices through writing and discussion exercises
  • Grow spiritually through inner reflection, group engagement, and public actions
• Through monthly webinars, engage topics including eco-spirituality, environmental racism and justice, green jobs, sustainable living, and more
• Develop a local GreenFaith Circle, connected with GreenFaith’s global network

People of all spiritual and faith traditions (ordained and lay leaders) may apply.

Program cost is $1500 plus travel expenses to the two retreats; limited scholarships are available based on need and commitment.

Applications are due by 31 May 2019.
